CIA SENIOR SEMINAR

The third CIA Senior Seminar will be held from 21 January through 23 March 1973. The Seminar is designed for senior officers from all Directorates and the Director's Area.

The Senior Seminar's objectives are to broaden participants' understanding of the intelligence profession and the Agency, the Agency's relationships with other parts of government, and the problems and pressures facing Agency management; to update their knowledge of foreign developments and their impact on CIA; and to expose participants to change in American society which is relevant to CIA.

The Seminar draws on experts from academic and private research organizations, officials from other branches and agencies of the government, and knowledgeable officers throughout the Agency. Specific topics are covered in formal presentations followed by seminar discussions with guest speakers and panels. Local field trips, films, case studies and discussions of papers are interspersed. Much of the learning and broadening in the Seminar is derived from the participation of the Seminar members. Selection of officers who represent different organizational elements and a wide range of intelligence work and foreign area experience is therefore an essential element.
